Dear Friends,

Sometimes we spend so much time thinking about how to observe Lent, that once we get to Easter, we tend to breathe a sigh of relief. Now we can eat chocolate again, or sleep in instead of getting up early to pray. Or perhaps we decide to continue our Lenten practice of prayer or reading or giving to those in need because we found it fulfilling and we want to continue.

But in either case, our focus on observing Lent can mean we forget to observe Easter. And Lent, after all, is only about getting ready for Easter, getting ready for this season of new life and celebration of God's work for us and in us and through us. So I thought I'd offer some ideas on observing Easter and making, it, too, a special season of the year. (And maybe it's also worth remembering that Easter is not one Sunday, but a season of 50 days – longer than Lent!)

Lent is about engaging in self-examination, to enter our empty places and find in them re-connection with God. But Easter inspires us to get on with the work of being God's people in the world and offers us the joyful reality of a fresh new beginning. Everything we do in Easter should be done with joy.

Easter is a season of new life. If you have been giving up things for Lent, getting something new for Easter is one way to mark the season. Some have a tradition of wearing something new – even if it's as simple as new socks or a new hair ribbon – on Easter Sunday, especially if it's white, the color that symbolizes our new life in baptism.

Since we are also celebrating our baptism, it's often fun to do something related to water on Easter afternoon or the days following. What about a visit to a lake or river, feeding the ducks on a pond, or a walk beside a brook? Or a visit to Drumlin Farm or another of our area farms to see the new lambs can be a fun trip for households with children, especially as the Fourth Sunday of Easter is always Good Shepherd Sunday (April 25th this year), when we remember that Jesus is our Good Shepherd and the Lamb of God.

If you have been having quiet time for prayer during Lent, what about making a point of showing hospitality to others in Easter – calling an old friend, making a date for coffee, or having someone over for dinner (maybe particularly someone who might be lonely).

Although you might be doing some of these things anyway, doing them with intentionality, knowing that they are about making your faith part of your life, makes them holy acts that celebrate renewal and hope in the Easter season.

A Day to Come and See

Saturday, May 1, 2010 from 9:00am-12noon

You have heard about this revolutionary, Montessori based way of introducing children to the Christian faith, come and see what it actually looks like.

Catechesis is a way of doing "Sunday School" that transforms adults as well as children. See an atrium, the space where children and adults alike "fall in love with Jesus."

- Experience the rich formation in liturgy and prayer offered in no other curriculum
- Explore the unique spiritual & developmental needs of children ages 3-6, 6-9, and 9-12

The Rev. Joyce Scherer-Hook will lead this morning of exploration.

However, feel free to bring questions on other topics, as well. Grab some coffee and join us!

4/25 Question & Answer Session with Dick Rogers of Sandra’s Lodge and Bristol Lodge

Hosted by the Mission Committee, we will hear about Redeemer’s partnership with these two organizations that help address the basic needs of food, shelter, and safety, as well as long-term affordable housing and other human services right in our local community.

The Endowment Committee is inviting applications for distribution of approximately $2000 of available funds for 2010. Redeemer’s modest endowment is intended to fund parishioner or committee projects that are outside Redeemer’s normal operating budget, including capital improvements, educational programs, outreach and mission work either within or outside Redeemer. If you would like to apply for endowment funds, please send your proposal, including a description and amount of funds requested, to Tom Swithenbank, Endowment Committee Chair (tom@swithenbank.org), or mail to the church office (Attn: Tom Swithenbank).

Vestry Summary

It was a real challenge for the newly-elected vestry to actually gather for our first meeting in February - we had two cancellations due to snow (or expectation of snow). We finally met on Feb. 24. At that meeting, new members were introduced to the “vestry liaison” responsibility. Each member of the vestry serves as a liaison to one of the committees listed below, to help vestry and the committee stay connected and to facilitate on-going communication. The liaison is expected to regularly attend the committee meetings and serve as the voice of the vestry, and then periodically report back to the vestry on committee plans and activities.

The following liaison assignments were selected: Stewardship Committee – Bob Bettacchi; Welcome Committee– Sandy Keshishian; Finance Committee – George Murnaghan; Dinesh Dulipsingh; Personnel Committee – George Murnaghan; Property Committee – Peter Lund; Music Committee – Randy Bowlby; Mission Committee – Connie Parrish & Paula Antonevich; Worship Committee – Susan Emanuel

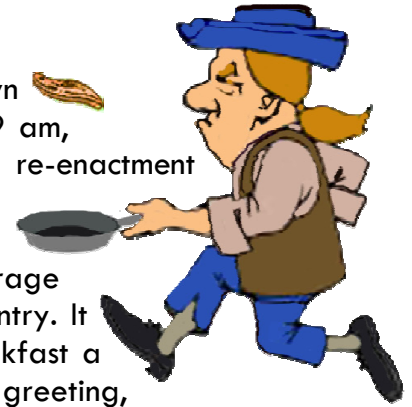

Our March meeting included a hint of the promise of summer - Kathy Mockett presented a proposal for an expanded Interfaith Giving Garden. The vestry unanimously approved the proposal.

Patriot's Day Call to Arms!

Monday, April 19, 2010 is Patriots' Day. Visitors stream into town to watch the Battle of Lexington re-enactment. Between 6 and 9 am, the Redeemer community hosts a pancake breakfast for hungry re-enactment spectators. It's an activity that is a lot of work and a LOT of FUN!

This year, the proceeds from the Pancake Breakfast, which average around $3,000, will again go directly to the Lexington Food Pantry. It takes a small army of bleary-eyed volunteers to make the Breakfast a success. We need help before, during, after, inside, outside, greeting, counting, cooking, cleaning, serving...

Please Join Us for this longstanding tradition of fellowship, outreach and service.

Sign up sheets will be posted soon. Please help if you are able and contact Randy Bowlby with questions. squawk5432@verizon.net or 978.244.0245

Music Director's Upcoming Sabbatical

~ Submitted by Cheryl Duerr

On April 12th I will be beginning my second sabbatical. I have worked with you here at Redeemer now for 10 ½ years – and witnessed a lot of changes. Sabbatical time is designed for rest, contemplation and retooling, which is exactly what I plan to do. It won't all be time off from music, though, as I'll be teaching at the Pipe Organ Encounter sponsored jointly by the New Haven and Fairfield West Chapters of the American Guild of Organists, held at Fairfield University in Fairfield, CT. My sabbatical and continuing education at the American Guild of Organists national convention in Washington, DC, will last until July 12th, and after that I will take my vacation.

As chair of the Music Committee, Murray Daniels does a great deal behind the scenes which many people don't realize. I'd like to say a special thank you to Murray and to the Music Committee for steering the ship while I'm gone.

Editors' Note: Watch the May, 2010 issue of Redeeming Features for special thank-you's from Cheryl to all who participated in making music at Redeemer this program year.

Introducing Fred Backhaus

During Cheryl's absence, Frederick Backhaus will be leading the Adult Choir and playing for Sunday worship. Fred was Organist & Choirmaster of All Saints, Ashmont, where he led the fully-professional Choir of Men & Boys and two volunteer choirs. He has performed in the United States, Great Britain, and Eastern Europe, and is a past Dean of the Nassau (Long Island) chapter of the American Guild of Organists. As the Assistant Director and Organist of the Long Island professional vocal ensemble Voci da Camera from 1999 to 2004, he accompanied them on tours of Eastern Europe and the United Kingdom, and served as organist when they were the choir-in-residence at Gloucester Cathedral. Fred has served on the music staff of the King's College Training Course of the Royal School of Church Music and has studied choral conducting with Sir George Guest and Stephen Cleobury. His choirs released two compact discs, and were chosen by filmmaker Ken Burns for his History Channel documentary on Theodore Roosevelt. He is married to the distinguished soprano and choral conductor Kathleen Blixt.

Kean University Concert Choir to Rock Redeemer on April 11th

On Sunday, April 11th, the Kean University Concert Choir, directed by Dr. Mark Terenzi, will provide music for the 9:30 am service. Arrive early to hear the entire Prelude (around 10 minutes); they'll also sing the Psalm, Anthem and Communion music. Kean is a university of 13,000 students, primarily commuters in Union, New Jersey, and is well-known as a teachers college. The choir will sing Russian, Brazilian, gospel, and jazz music, selections from Mendelssohn's Elijah, and Moses Hogan's famous Elijah Rock, so it promises to be an exciting service!

Editors' note: We'd like to introduce some new "redeeming features" to our newsletter. This page is intended to help build our community - to get to know each other better, share our celebrations, and match talents with the needs in our church.

Celebrations and Thanks

Sabeth Fitzgibbons, Julien and Esteban Goulet celebrate the news that their application for a second adoption has been approved by the adoption house in Colombia. This means it is likely (but not guaranteed) that they will be adding another member to their family this year!

The Bennett family would like to thank the parish for their prayers for Dell, during his recent deployment with the United States Coast Guard in support of the Haitian relief effort. Having recently completed their mission, the USCGC Hamilton is slowly making its way back to home port in San Diego!

Possibilities An Art Exhibit by parishioner Barbara Beinhooker

April 1st—30th at Trinity Episcopal Church, Concord Reception Sunday April 18th at 12:30pm

As Winter fades, new possibilities fill the earth and ourselves. There are exciting patterns and colors just under our feet as we walk along a woodland path. The shapes formed by tree branches, patterns of light and dark, color and texture open new vistas.

~ Barbara is a natural science artist who works in a variety of media. She's run Redeemer's Thursday morning art class for many years, and conducts workshops, demonstrations, and lectures for churches, environmental organizations, and schools. Her work has hung in national and international exhibits including the National Cathedral, and the Massachusetts Audubon Society.

HELP WANTED

Redeemer's Greeners

A few warm days in March remind us that grass growing season is just around the corner. Once again we are looking for volunteers to help cut Redeemer's lawn save the church the expense of a commercial service. We've lost some help as people have moved away, so please volunteer! Check your vacation calendar and let us know if you can help even one week this summer. A sign-up sheet is in the hallway or contact Claudia Cooper.

Getting to Know You

Each month we will feature an interview with a parishioner in an attempt to give readers a chance to get to know their fellow neighbors better. This month, we are proud to introduce...

Dottie Fietze

We asked Dottie to tell us about her experience of Redeemer over the years. Here is what we learned:

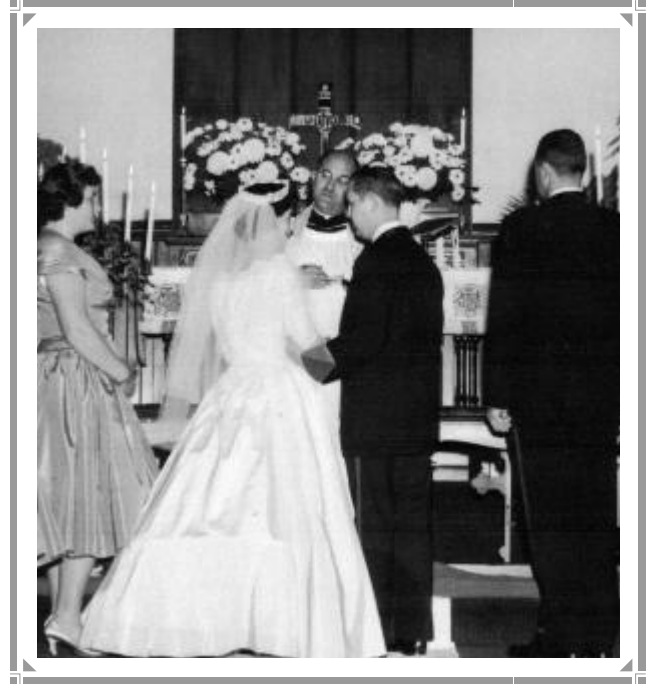

Dottie was baptized, confirmed, and married at Redeemer by the same minister, the Rev. Harold Handley. She married Ron Fietze on Thanksgiving Eve, November 23, 1955 and her five brothers and sisters all were all in the wedding party. The wedding took place in the old church across Meriam St.*

As a child, Dottie remembers singing in the choir. She also remembers her mother baking apple pies for the church fair. Her father was sent down to the church to deliver the pies, but a few of them would always return back home, having been bought back by her father immediately upon arrival at the church.

When Dottie's children, Debbie (now LeBlanc) and Mary Jane were kids, there were so many children at the church, that activities had to be held on weekdays in addition to Sundays. Dottie taught "Sunday School" on Thursday nights and also provided casseroles for the hungry young parishioners who enjoyed a meal together as a part of their Thursday church activities.

One of nicest things for Dottie is seeing and hearing about friends that she remembers from her youth at Redeemer. She mentioned May Baskin especially, who, as a friend of her parents attended her wedding in 1955. May has recently moved to Maine, but still receives Redeeming Features, so Dottie sends her greetings to her through this newsletter and to friends old and new at Redeemer.

Editor's note:* the "old church" is the building that is now St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church, "kitty-corner" to the current Church of Our Redeemer which was consecrated in 1956.

Please suggest subjects for future "Getting to Know You" interviews, or send us information about yourself!
